Disclaimer: This information is a projection of future performance, based on data available to us at this moment. The actual performance you observe when the future arrives will almost certainly differ from today's projection. Refunds, chargebacks, credit cancellations, changes in your own bank's fee policies and any of a hundred other variables make it impossible for us to predict every change that may or may not occur from this moment until some future date. You should regard future projections as broad guides but never rely on their being precisely accurate. They won't be. This report does not include any product sales, Web900 One-Time sales, or credit card One-Time sales. It also does not attempt to anticipate how many current rubacaters will cancel or be declined by the future date indicated.
